How much do Airport lockers cost?

There are six different banks of lockers within the airport, and they cost anywhere from six euros up to around twelve euros per twenty-four hour period. You can pay with most major credit and debit cards, and some of the lockers can be paid for with cash.

Why do outdoor lockers cost more than indoor lockers?

Outdoor lockers require weather-resistant materials, insulation, and ventilation--resulting in a higher build cost compared to indoor units. Additional features like temperature control, remote monitoring, advanced access methods (QR, RFID, biometric), or branded wraps and customised UI will affect the final cost.
